

ASH MINORITY RESIDENT HEMATOLOGY AWARD PROGRAM

Promoting underrepresented minority residents in hematology through invaluable research experience and mentorship

The ASH Minority Resident Hematology Award Program (MRHAP) offers a unique opportunity for first- and second-year medical residents to get exposure to the field of hematology through hands-on research guided by ASH research and career-development mentors.

Apply to advance your hematology research experience!

Meet prominent leaders in the field of hematology and network with more than 25,000 physicians, scientists, educators, trainees, and industry professionals from around the world at the ASH annual meeting.

Present your research during a special event for recipients of ASH Minority Recruitment Initiative award programs and discuss your findings with ASH leadership, peers, and other annual meeting attendees.

Receive $5,000 to support your research experience, a $2,000 travel allowance to attend the ASH annual meeting in early December, and complimentary ASH membership, which includes subscriptions to Blood and The Hematologist, the Society's journal and newsletter.

Work with an ASH mentor on your research project. Program participants are also paired with an ASH member who serves as a career-development mentor throughout their residency.

To learn more about the MRHAP, including specific eligibility requirements, visit www.hematology.org/mrhap or email awards@hematology.org.

Request a Mentor deadline: November 15
Application deadline: January 15
Program year begins in June
